Objectives

The event aims to support the Eco-Youth projects applicants to the Interreg NEXT MED call for green transition projects. During the event, participants will learn about the specific features and rules for participation applicable to the Eco-youth projects, budget issues, and tips for successful project development.

Since most Eco-Youth applicants have usually less experience in submitting project proposals than the average, the session will pay special attention to explaining fundamental concepts of project design such as the relevance, the transnationality, the sustainability or the intervention logic in a simple manner. Thanks to this event, Eco-Youth applicants will be able to better conceive their proposal and fine-tune the different sections of the E-form.

More information about the call for proposals, open until 15th of May 2025 (1pm CET), can be found here.
